ABOUT THE GAME

Quick Dungeon Crawler is a casual roguelite RPG built for short sessions. Pick a class, spend your stats, choose a passive and descend — then see how far you get before the dungeon kills you. Every run generates new floors, enemies and loot, and everything you carry out feeds the next attempt.

The whole game runs on the device: install it from Google Play or the App Store, or load it once in a browser and it keeps working offline. It is free, shows no ads and collects no personal data, and the full source is public under AGPL-3.0. It began as a fork of Red Pangilinan's Dungeon Crawler on Demand and is developed in the open by Werkstattl.
